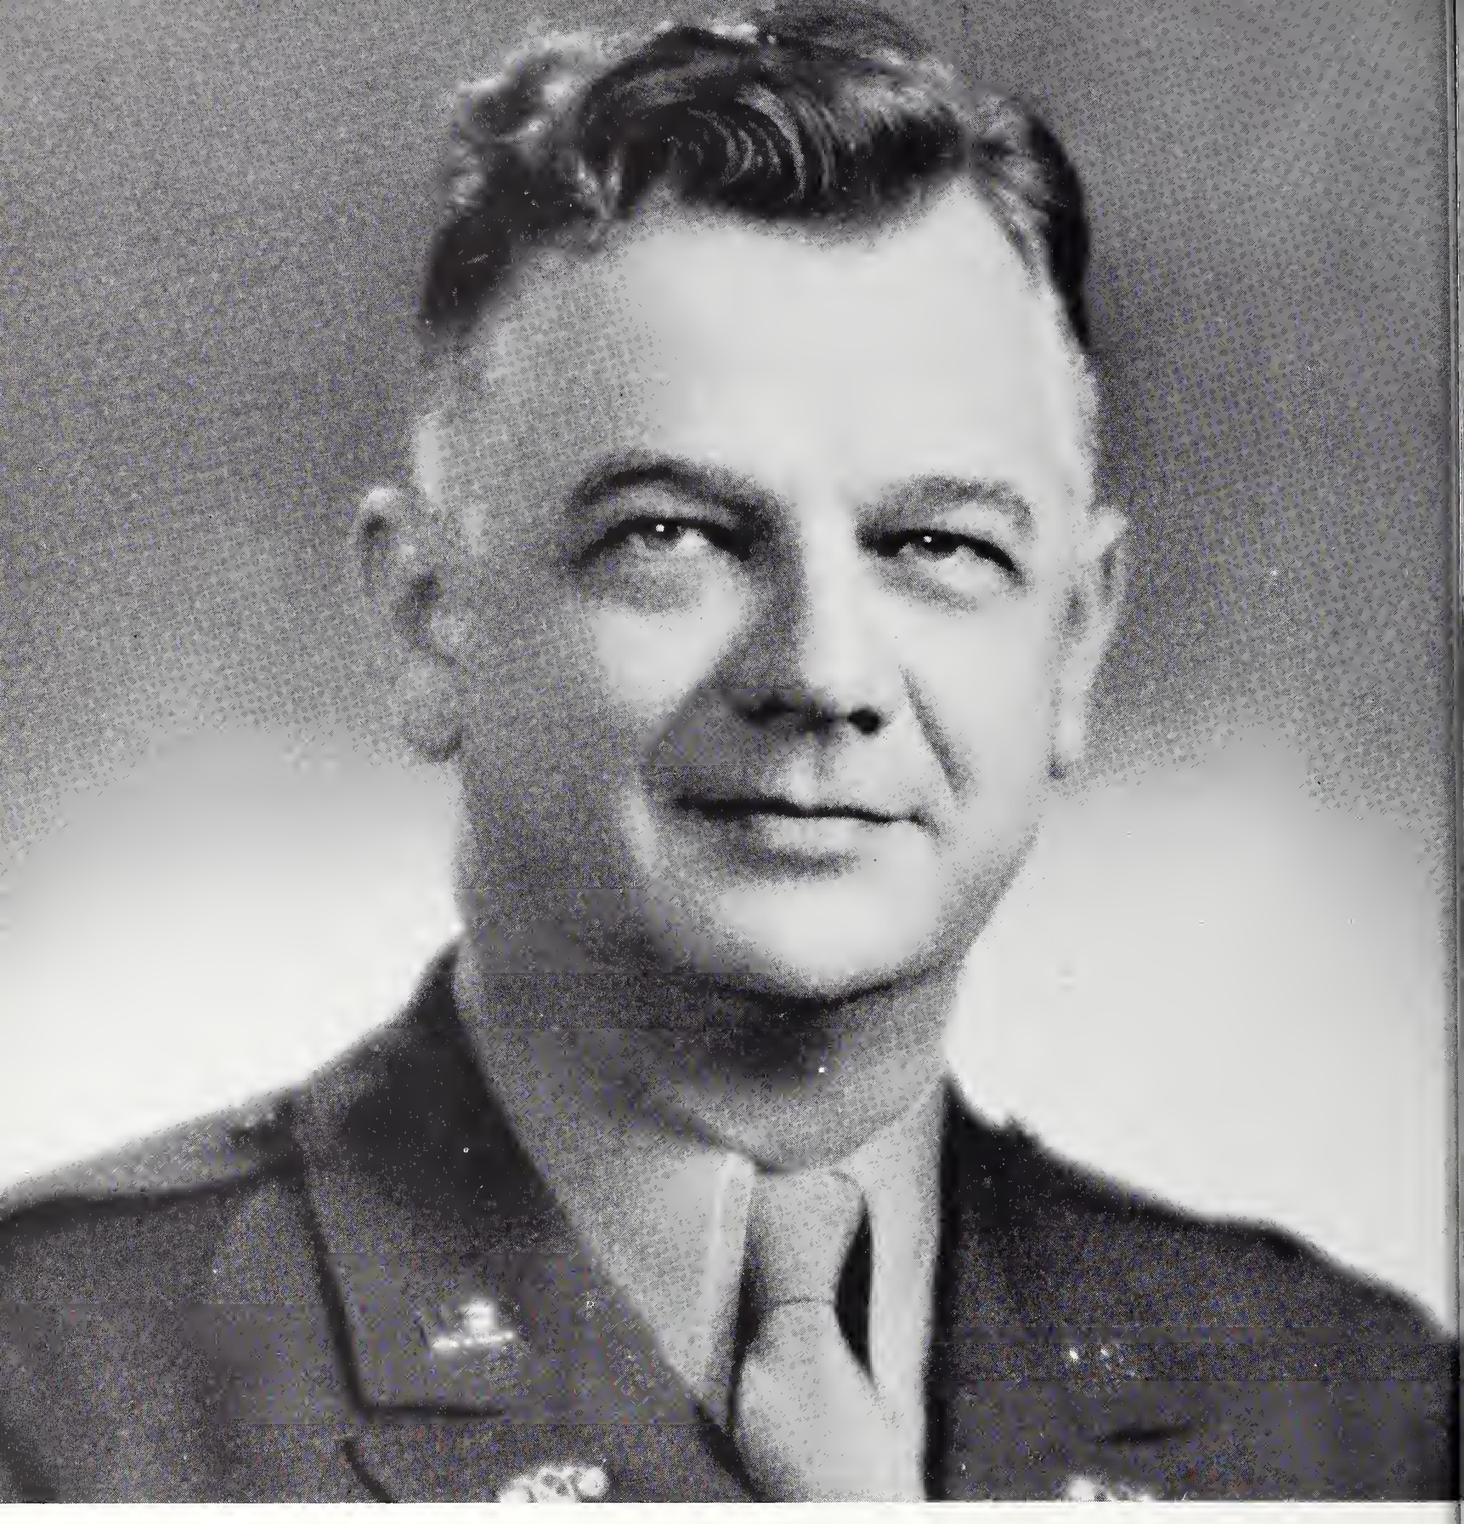
The 4-H Club square dancers pause for a moment.

The Home Economics class busy with their sewing.

Debaters pause before the rebuttal.



Among our memories there is always someone who holds a supreme place, and whose memory is indelibly impressed on the heart of every student at West Georgia College.

Someone who helped us at that faltering moment to go forward toward our goal; and who, because of his helpfulness, his untiring interest in all students, his diligent service in and out of school, will never be forgotten.

Because of this, we, the students and faculty of West Georgia College do dedicate this annual to the memory of Brooks O. Pittman.

FRESHMEN

Well! We admit they were a little green during freshman week. But take a look now. Our Freshmen, the largest group on our campus, have at this early date proved themselves to be real campus leaders. Their eagerness, enthusiasm, and winning personalities have started them well on their way to winning higher honors and greater recognition for West Georgia College. To this worthy group we dedicate this section of our annual. Congratulations, Freshmen, on the fine job you are doing. Keep up the good work.

FOOTBALL

Well, the past season was good for our Braves, two wins, one tie and five losses. From a sideline view, statistics have been compiled of the team's record. They have had bad breaks and have continuously failed to use the good breaks.

The Braves represented a fine squad of very talented athletes. Although they lost five games, you cannot put your finger on the factor that kept them from having a clean season slate, but a general observation shows the Braves have not used all their power. In at least one (Middle Georgia) of the eight games they played this season, the team has shown that they can run, pass, punt, hold the opponents, and hustle with great determination.

Arlin Barr carries pigskin around right end for 15 yards against a strong Tennessee Wesleyan team.

Ed (Mule) Meyer picks up blockers in a hard first down drive.

In the other games of the season some of these elements were lacking. In the season opener with Marion Institute the team did a creditable job. Leading 7-0 at halftime on the sensational 97-yard run by Marvin Williamson. Throughout the last half Marion used their passing power, winning 27-7.

The Braves pulled their hustling determination together and ripped through the University of South, 26-0. In this game they showed a great defensive team.

Tennessee Wesleyan came to Carrollton and rolled over the Braves 26-0. Unfortunately the Braves had neither offense nor defense in this game.

Next the Braves journeyed into the mountains to meet Hiawassee. They were considerably improved in this game after a week of hard tackling and offensive work. In this game the defense had to stop the broken field running of Hiawassee's Joe Jolly. They did stop him as they won 13-6 with the help of Dan Pritchett's punting toe.

In the next two games the Braves had to play senior colleges, Troy State Teachers and Jacksonville State Teachers. They were really playing teams that were twice as old as they were (speaking of experience). They braced themselves for Troy. To everyone's surprise the Braves did play a good time, although the score was 44-7 against W.G.C. The high score was made on fumbles and blocked punts. A great number of freshmen were in this game replacing injured first stringers.

WEST GEORGIA BRAVES

Gerald Horne (32) finds it is hard going after recovering a fumble.

Cotton McMullen finds good blocking after intercepting a pass.

Jacksonville State was the best team the Braves met all year. Our men were outclassed in all ways, losing 40-6.

One of the most important games of the season was the Homecoming Game with their arch rivals Middle Georgia College. The Braves exhibited one of the best games played by a West Georgia team in years. They out-rushed the Middle Georgian's 247 yards to 97 yards. Outstanding running of Ed Meyer and Red Potts appeared on the scene along with a strong pass defense. The Braves were within Middle Georgia's 10-yard line five times, but could muster the scoring punch only once. Thus the game ended in a 7-7 deadlock.

In near freezing temperature the Braves were chilled into their last defeat 20-12. Stand-out of the game was Red Pott's 80-yard kick-off return for a touchdown. A great defense was held together by graduating Dopy Morgan, Jimmy Carroll and Joe Randal.

All factors that go into a winning team were present on the Braves' squad. Of course, every team is going to lose a game they ought to have won and that fact is accepted. But it is believed the Braves could have won all their games. This is not criticizing the team, but merely pointing out their potentiality.

The school should be and is proud of the Braves' past season record and not only the record, but the fine group of guys.

B A S K E T B A L L

When the Winter quarter comes, West Georgia becomes enthused over its most-loved sport, Basketball.

West Georgia does not emphasize just winning games, but the development of fine sportsmanship of each player and the representation of our college.

Throughout the years, the Braves have played schools with the same scholastic standing of Junior colleges. However, this year they felt that due to the high number of new freshmen, they could step out of their class by playing two-thirds of their games with Senior colleges. They stepped into this class and found the competition too strong, although playing fine basketball.

Rachels pass to Pritchett under West Georgia's basket.

Two points for the Braves made by Rachels.

The Braves accepted only one tournament invitation, "The Southern Tech Invitational Tournament" held in Chamblee, Georgia. This tournament concluded their sixteen game schedule.

The Braves not only played creditable ball under overwhelming odds, but played with the high school spirit.

One of the most popular organizations of the West Georgia College campus is the Women's Athletic Association. Every girl on the campus is automatically a member and is encouraged to participate in the intramural program which the W.A.A. sponsors. The purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is to foster and promote interest in athletic activities, to develop good sportsmanship, and to develop some degree of skill in all sports offered at West Georgia College.

The Student Government is outstanding in leading and participating in college activities. The House councils and representatives of the Day Students constitute the Student Council. This year the Council has been under the leadership and guidance of Mr. Floyd Wirsing and Mrs. Shannon, Dean of Women.

The Student Government sponsored a tea which preceded the Choir's Christmas Concert in Mandeville Lobby for parents and friends of the college. Other activities sponsored are the campus elections, such as class officers. Participation and supervision of formal affairs is often left to the Council. A constant duty of Student Government is to act as host and hostess for visitors of the campus. It is considered an honor to be able to participate as a member of student council.

The day students, although regularly not on the campus at night, constitute as important a part of the campus activities as do the dormitory students. This group of students commute from Carrollton and the surrounding areas. Without the unfailing efforts and achievements of the day students, the campus activities would not have been carried on as well as they are.

ALPHA PSI

Alpha Psi, composed of young women interested in the field of Home Economics, devotes itself to many prominent school activities. Among these activities is the election of a May Day Queen and her court. With the help of competent instructors, the club makes the May Day festivities one of the most interesting activities on the campus. Besides their outside activities, the programs at their meetings are filled with interesting discussions concerning good grooming, cooking, clothing, and other fields of Home Economics. Some of the Club members have obtained national and State-wide awards in Home Economics. The Alpha Psi is affiliated with the State and National Home Economics Clubs.

F. T. A.

The Tirje-Downs Chapter of the Future Teachers of America has as its main purpose the planning of programs which will be beneficial to future teachers.

This club is composed of those majoring in any field of Education. The two aims of the organization are to give students in teacher training the experience of working together and to interest students in teaching as a career. F.T.A. conducts the chapel program during American Education week and assists the faculty during the freshman week of orientation. Delegates are sent to the state and national meetings. As one of their projects this year, they undertook the problem of helping needy schools in the community. The club also visited and observed the Sand Hill School. The F.T.A. is affiliated with the Georgia Education Association and the National Education Association.

F. B. L. A.

Those students coming to West Georgia College interested in office work and commercial subjects found one of the most active clubs on the campus devoted to them. The Future Business Leaders of America is open to anyone taking commercial courses.

As one of the club's projects it publishes a bimonthly paper, The Flash, a mimeographed sheet which contains news of interest to the club members. The members of the club gain experience in office practice by working as secretaries for various faculty members.

Taking dictation, Patricia Dickens pauses to chat with Charlotte Niblack, Jane Gregg, and Mary Helen Ward.

Busy at work in the typing room are these industrious young ladies—Betty Ann Jackson, Darlene Vaughn, Anita Morris, and Tommye Lewis.

V. R. A.

The Voluntary Religious Association is a voluntary religious organization which is open to all members of the college, regardless of their denomination. The council is open to any student who wishes to give his time for the furtherance of spiritual activities on the campus.

The Religious Emphasis Week is one of the highlights of the college year. This affair is held in the fall quarter and the speaker was the Rev. Mr. Walter Chidsey, of Winder. Devotionals by Mr. Chidsey were given each morning and evening. Discussions held with students individually about their personal problems proved very enlightening spiritually. Each Wednesday night a vesper program is sponsored by members of the council.

The V.R.A. under the helm and leadership of Miss Crider is an outstanding campus activity.

ZETA SIGMA PI

The bimonthly meetings of the Zeta Sigma Pi are concerned with current topics and events. Discussion and evaluation of problems of national interest is foremost in the club's standards. The Zeta Sigma Pi is the sponsor of intercollegiate and intramural debating and persons interested in the social sciences are responsible for presenting these debates.

The Zeta Sigma Pi each year sponsors a Debate Tournament for colleges wishing to participate. This year the current topic is the Federal Employment Law. The debaters introduce debates for the benefit of the student body each year for the purpose of better informing the students.

4-H CLUB

The College 4-H Club is composed of former 4-H Club members and others interested in furthering 4-H Club work. Three of the members, Peggy Clark, Carolyn Milner, and Betty Bowers, are attending West Georgia on 4-H General Excellence Scholarships.

The club is very active in sponsoring activities on the campus. Fall quarter they sponsored a float in the Homecoming Parade; and winter quarter, they entertained the faculty and student body with an old fashioned square dance.

It is affiliated with the Georgia Extension Service. The four-square development of head, heart, hand, and health stand for the H's in the four-leaf clover. The motto is: "To make the best better."

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Being a Boy Scout is an important part of a boy's life—a part he does not want to forget just because he grows up. That's why West Georgia maintains a chapter of Alpha Phi Omega. The principles of the Boy Scouts are carried out by the A.P.O. in the manner of helpful services done around the campus. Mr. Floyd Wirsing served the fraternity as adviser during his first year at West Georgia.

Members (seated): Jimmy Cook, Jeanette Witcher. (Standing): Pat Huff, Joe Harrison, and Elliott Hill hold an informal meeting with Mrs. Stanford.

Study of the Spanish customs, traditions and language is the purpose of the Spanish Club. Foremost in the mind of the club is a better understanding of the Spanish people.

The W Club encourages participation in school sports and school spirit. The club is composed of men who have achieved letters in one or more sports. The efforts of the club are stressed in the ideas of sportsmanship and high standards in the field of sports.

The monthly meetings of the French Club are highlighted with some form of French song, customs, and literature. The members have been learning several songs and playing French games. Any student is eligible for membership in this club even though the student may not study the French language.

WEST GEORGIAN

The business staff of the West Georgian is assembled for once. Charlotte Niblack, Carolyn Milner, and Blanche Rutland stand for their portrait, while Peggy Sosebee, Joy Putnam, Peggy Clarke, Elizabeth Hayes, Rose Craton, and Mary Lou Cagle pause in their work on an early issue of the West Georgian.

The West Georgian is one of the highest ranking papers in any junior college of comparable size in this region. It has received recognition on several occasions from the Associated Collegiate Press. The paper stresses student expression, student solution to problems, and campus relations. There is a balanced coverage of campus events and student interests.

Work on a newspaper such as the West Georgian gives students an opportunity to express themselves in writing and editing as a form of journalistic experience. The paper for this school year was under the faculty guidance of Miss Marie Campbell during fall and spring quarters and under the assistance of Mr. Everett McKibben during winter quarter, when Miss Campbell was out on leave of absence.

Janette Witcher served as editor for the '52-'53 school year. Associate editors were Jean Jackson and Jimmy Cook. Other members of the literary staff were Mary Bishop, Women's Sports Editor; J. C. Johnston, Men's Sports Editor; Mary Ruth Pulliam, columnist; Donna Wendorf, columnist; Elliott Hill, photographer; Leigh Bryant, Art Editor; Dan Childers, Buddy Jones, Beverly Bryant, Rebecca Lee, Tommye Lewis, Jerry Reeves, Barbara Hall, Joe Hardison, Zelda Duke, Mary Ann King, and Billy Copeland were reporters.

Business staff members were Elizabeth Hayes, circulation manager; Rose Craton and Blanche Rutland, circulation assistants; Peggy Clarke, Business Manager; Carolyn Milner, advertising manager; and Charlotte Niblack, and Peggy Sosebee, typists.

FEATURE STAFF

Yearbooks are points of interest at any school, but especially at West Georgia the students take an interest in the annual. The Chieftain, headed this year by Donna Wendorf, Editor, and Pat Windom and Barbara Pitman, Associate Editors, had a hard-working staff. Business Manager was Carolyn Milner. Carolyn Fraker, Bettye Henderson, Jeanette Morgan, Tommye Lewis, and Joy Putnam comprised the business staff. The Literary staff were: Sara Davis, Feature Editor; Peggy Clark, Ann Thrash, and Virginia Ragsdale, Class Editors; Nancy Armstrong, Fay Ayres, and Jimmy Cook, Club Editors; and Beverly and Leigh Bryant, Art Editors. The staff worked hard, but it feels that it was worth all its troubles.

CHOIR

West Georgia's A Cappella choir is a tradition on this campus. The purpose of this organization is to promote student leadership activities in group singing. West Georgia's 1952-'53 Choir was not as large as most of the choirs have been in the history of the school, but it showed the willingness to work at the songs before them until each tone was perfected.

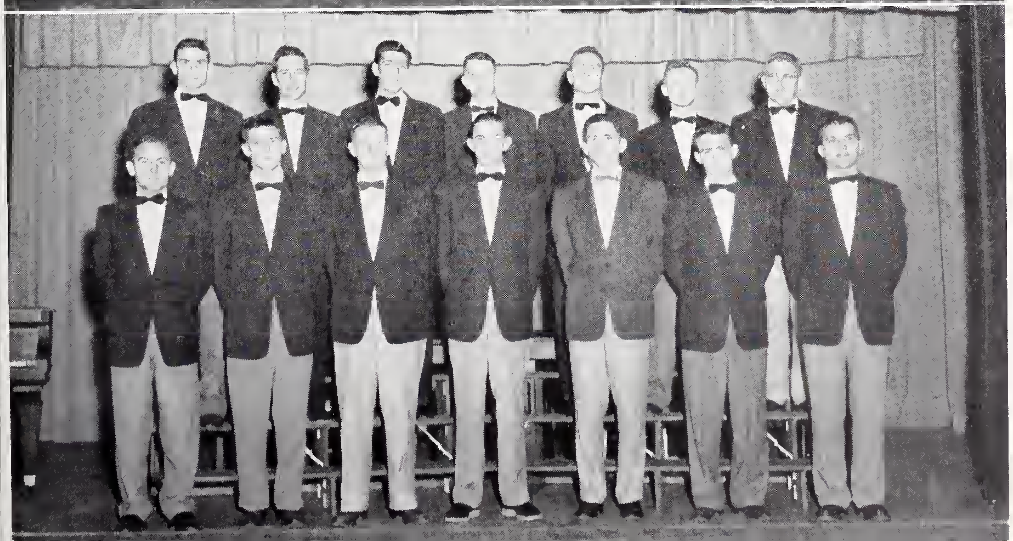
Practice!

Under the direction of Mr. Victor Sayre the Choir made its first appearance of the season at the Thanksgiving Banquet. The next performance was at the Christmas Concert. In February the Choir presented a sacred concert. Other performances followed when during Spring Quarter the group went on tour to various high schools in this region.

The Cecelians, girls ensemble of the West Georgia College Choir was a group of faithful sopranos and altos, singing many numbers in the Choir concerts.



At the left is the men's ensemble of the W.G.C. Choir.

Aycock Hall is the largest dormitory on the campus, therefore it is necessary for this dorm to maintain two separate house councils. The first, pictured at the left, is the regular house council, Vice-President, Robert Olin Fuqua; Secretary, Dan Childers; Treasurer, Eddie Potts; and Kenneth Helmkay, President. Not pictured are Jimmy Carroll and Jimmy Cook, proctors. The other council at the right is Bob Stockton, Eddie Teal, Bobby Stovall, Robert King, and Jim Ellis.
